Preservation of Landscape Seen Essential to Development of City's Environs.

The project for industrialization of the Potomac River through the harnessing of Great Falls, for which a preliminary permit was recently granted by the Federal Power Commission, will probably be given a fatal blow today as the result of a visit to the falls and the gorge of the river yesterday by members of the park and planning nmissions of the National Capital,

The automobile was being operated along Eleventh street slowly because of a flat tire, witnesses told Patrolmen J O. Perkins and W. J. Patten, of the Ninth Precinct. At the intersection the automobils and a Washington Railway & Electric Co. street car, in charge of Emmett Witt. motorman, and William Dawkins, conductor, came together.

Ridgeway, police say, was thrown more than 20 feet, and Young a shorter distance. Both were rendered unconacious. Albert N. Tolbert, 908 Eighth street northeast, took Ridgeway to the hospital, where he was treated by Dr. Joseph Angelo for a probable broken skull, severe scalp cuts and body bruises His condition is the more serious. Youngs was taken to the hospital by Pred Morse and treated by Dr. Carroll McCoy for a possible fractured skull, forehead cuts and bruises. The seriousness of their condition prohibited police from learning who drove the automobile.

Motorcycle Policeman William M. Suthard, of No. 8 Precinct, and his wife were cut and bruised when the automobile in which they had been driving, after being in collision with the automobile of James Donovan, son of Maj. Daniel J. Donovan, auditor of the District, on the Fredericksburg pike, plunged from the road and overturned in a ten-foot-deep ditch.

The accident occurred between Quantico and Fredericksburg, while Suthard and his wife were driving back to Washington and Donovan was driving toward Fredericksburg. On a turn the two cars locked bumpers and the car driven by Suthard, which is owned by Joe Heath, of 435 Pennsylvania avenue left the road.

Suthard and his wife were given emergency treatment at the Quantico Marine Corps base and then were brought to Washington for treatment at Emergency Hospital. They later went to their home in Cottage City, Md.

Plunge Into Canal Fails To Purchase Freedom

While more than 2,000 gleeful spectators looked on, Benjamin Moten, colored, 1035 Thirtieth street northwest, attempted a bank-to-bank swim for freedom in the canal at the foot of Thirtleth street northwest yesterday afternoon. After half an hour of splashing about in the water, he was captured on the verge of exhaustion by Patrolman M. Caussin, of the Seventh Precinct,

M. Caussin, of the Seventh Precinct, and arrested on charges of frunk-enness and disorderly conduct. Moten was placed under arrest by Caussin but broke from the patrolman's grasp and dove into the canal. He swam for the opposite bank but Caussin had besten him there on foot. More than ten times the pur sued and the pursuer "see-sawed" from bank to bank, cheered by the fast-gathering throng.

Finally a call for help was sent to the police. Reserves from the Third Precinct and the Seventh Precinct patrol were rushed to the scene. They arrived in time to see Caussin commandeer a passing canoe and pursue the negro to the mouth of the river and fish him out. Both the prisoner and the captor were thoroughly soaked and

(By the Associated Press.) A unanimous report favoring construction by the United States and Canada of a ship canal from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic via the St. Lawrence River was made public yesterday by a joint committee representing the business and public interests of all six of the New England States. A study of the capital costs and economic benefits anticipated was presented along with the findings, on the basis of which the report rejected all alternative proposals for construction of purely American routes from the lakes to the ses. "The committee places itself definitely on record as favoring the early entrance of this government into negotiations with the officials of the Canadian government looking toward the prompt consummation of a treaty, "the report said, "which will make possible the undertaking of the enterprise, and urges upon all New England's local and national representatives the desirability of their full cooperation in every reasonable manner to bring this result about." report, the result of nearly six months of investigation.

Construction of the St. Lawrence waterway would cost between $350,-100,000 and $385,500,000, the report said, depending upon the exact plan adopted, but most of this money would be returned from power development, since the water fall from Lake Ontario to Montreal is 244 feet. The net cost to Montreal is 244 feet. The net cost of the waterway for navigation was estimated at between $123,000,000 at $148,000,000.

The channel, when completed, would furnish a route for an estimated extensive from $6.000,000 to $1.000 to $1.0

The channel, when completed, would furnish a route for an estimated export shipment of from 8,000,000 to 12,000,000 tons annually, balanced by import tonnage of from 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 tons.

By its operation, the committee said, 4,000 miles, or approximately 50 per cent, would be added to the coast line of the Nation.

"The committee looks upon the proposed expenditure for developing the waterway as in the nature of a capital investment of a national character, upon which exceptionally large dividends would be returned in the form of reduced transportation costs and the general benefit and prosperity of a large and important section of the country," the report continued.

"It believes the net result of the development incidentally would be of great advantage to New England and the surrounding community, both from a broad national standpoint as well as that of purely local self interest."

While the waterway contemplated could reduce Middle Western freight costs in marketing agricultural produce and take some freight from railroads, the committee convolved that the form and take some freight from railroads, the committee convolved that the time of the institution for the continuous contemplated by the slides. One of the pictures displayed a group of former "still guards" who had given up their illegal occupation to attend the institution, later developing into students of high committee country."

The harmonizing influence of the school in cooperative interracial development in southern Maryland was emphasized by Admiral Benson, who alled attention to the nonsectarian nature of the institution was reported by Mr. Haltigan, who great advantage to New England and the surrounding community, both from a broad national standpoint as well as Catholics. "A visit to the institution dem waterway as in the nature of a capital investment of a national character, upon which exceptionally large dividends would be returned in the form of reduced transportation costs and the general benefit and prosperity of a large and important section of the country." the report continued.

"It believes the net result of the development incidentally would be of great advantage to New England and the surrounding community, both from a broad national standpoint as well as that of purely local self interest."

While the waterway contemplated could reduce Middle Western freight costs in marketing agricultural produce and take some freight from railroads, the committee concluded that in the long run even the railroads would benefit from the increased prosperity, and that the annual tonnage volume increase of American freight would enable them to recoup any losses.

All routes proposed on the American side exclusively, the committee said, were ruled out of consideration by the extreme cost of construction, greater distance over which traffic would be routed, and the amount of obstruction encountered.

Japanese Are Waiting.

W. C. Bridgman, first lord of the British admiralty, will nominate Mr. Gibson, and after the latter, duplicating the action of former Secretary of State Hughes at Washington, has submitted the American proposals, the British will undoubtedly submit theirs. The Japanese spokesman said tonight when asked to comment:

"Our plan?"—Oh, we may wait and listen."

The conference may last six weeks, if it goes smoothly, or end quickly if it reveals the impossibility of concord. It will probably bring only a conditional agreement, for Great Britain is almost certain to make limitation depend on France and Italy not exceeding the fixed tonnage, especially for submarings.

Geneva, Switzerland, June 19 (By A P.).—The members of the Japane delegation, Japanese correspon and Japanese visitors to the naval limitation conference here are so numerous that with a little stretch of imagination it would seem that they have transformed the Quay Mont Blanc into Tokyo's Ginza as they stroll along the lake front in meditative Japanese fashion. They have requisitioned the major portion of one of the big hotels, the remainder being taken by the British delegation, thus recalling the Anglo-Japanese alliance which the Washington naval conference relegated to history when the four power Pacific pact was substituted for it.

With traditional attachment for Nippon ways and methods the Japanese have brought their own telephone exchange operator, and when one calls up the Japanese delegation at their hotel a girlish birdlike voice answers "moshi, moshi," which corresponds to the universal "hello, hello."

When the portly and benevolent looking Admiral Saito slowly descends the stairway and crosses the lobby, the Japanese present rise respectfully and make a low Japanese obelsance, reserved for beloved and aged dignitarias and members of the imperial family. Admiral Saito was easily the most popular figure at the reception which Hugh S. Gibson, head of the American delegation, gave this afternoon. His white hair almost matches that of Admiral Hilary P. MITTEN MERGER PLAN CERTAIN OF OPPOSITION

Engineer Brotherhood Delegates Want Stone's Ideal Adhered To.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 19 (By A. P.). A proposal of officers of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers that the brotherhood merge their banking and inancial interests with the Mitten interests of Philadelphia, is expected to Ireach the floor of the triennial convention of the brotherhood here this week. Announcement that such a step was contemplated caused a stir among the delegates today. Effect of the announcement was problematical. A number of delegates today declared they would oppose any plan that would mean abandonment of the original cooperative idea of Warren S. Stone, who founded the first brotherhood bank in Cleveland in 1920.

Officials of the brotherhood, while not denying that a merger of the brotherhood's interests with those of Thomas E. and A. A. Mitten was under consideration, refused any comment on the negotiations.

"It was a happy inspiration which named Lindbergh's plane "The Spirit of St. Louis." In its proud and soaring flight it well typifies the spirit of this fair city. And the pilot, tall above his fellows, may well suggest the city's patron saint before whose monument we stand, who was every inch a king. Louis IX of France was a lover of peace but a crusader; charitable but rigorously just, and, save for his mothof peace but a crusader: charitable but rigorously just, and, save for his mother, Blanche of Castile, he rode alone, ruling without favorites or prime minister. How fitting that a plane with such a name, piloted by such a youth, should fly from America to her ancient ally, France. Lindbergh worthily represents, not only the spirit of St. Louis, but the spirit of America; above all, the spirit of glorious, daring, all-conquering youth.

His promise to "keep you only a minute" brought cries of "No! No! No!"

"The transatiantic flight was made for the purpose of helping aeronautics."

Col. Lindbergh said, "and to put St. Louis where it belongs in aeronautics "to takes 85 hours to cross the United States by train. The Spirit of St. Louis on its trip across the continent, across the Atlantic, from place to place in Europe, and halfway back across the United States, has been in the air moily 80 hours. The durability of the motor of The Spirit of St. Louis is from 200 to 250 hours without overhauling."

Then Col. Lindbergh gave another hint as to what his future will be.

"St. Louis is in position to be the center of air lines in the United States, with proper cooperation we can put St. Louis where it belongs as the center of aviation in the country."

Word Co-Opt Puzzle To Language Experts

London, June 19 (By A. P.).—The experts seem to disagree on what is good English. Robert Underwood Johnson, American author, was acting as chairman of the Royal Society of Literature when George Bernard Shaw used the word "co-opt." Mr. Johnson said he had never heard of it in his life. It means to elect to fill a vacancy. Then somebody asked if any good English writer misused "who" and "whom." "Yes, sir, Shakespeare," said Prof. J. Dover Wilson.
The society decided to form an Anglo-American committee to adjust disputed usages of words.

Autos Surround Church.

There was a sign over the door to let it be known that this was the "Hermossa Congregational Church." There was not enough room for the last two letters in "congregational" so the "a" and the "!" were just painted above the "lon". Horses that apparently have never had antyhing save rain and sunshine on their backs grazed in the pasturage nearby. So far as known that is about all they do for few people out here seem to ride them.

Drawn up on all sides of the church were automobiles, not the pretentious ones or those of foreign make which Washington often sees, but mudstained durable machines. And the people who rode in them were dressed in their Sunday best, a close examination of which revealed no difference in the clothes which Eastern men and women wear. But taken in the ensemble they were different. The women had on silk stockings and silk and crepe de chine frock but they had also that rustic appearance and they lacked the chic make-up. That was all. There was no poverty discernible about them. The nearest to the cowboy make-up was furnished by two or three of the visiting newspaper men and the photographers.

Mr. Untermyer, in a 40-page pamphlet, made public today, charges that the manifest purpose of the book was "to picture Senator Glass in the role of the sole author of that historic piece of legislation and all others as at best assistants or supernumeraries."

To accomplish that purpose, he decluares, Senator Glass "saw fit * * to assail bitterly the integrity" of Col.

He said the Federal reserve act was the direct outcome of the disclosures by the Pugo investigating committee of the House of Representatives in 1912-1913 "of the dangerous concentration of the control of money and credits."

He added that this committee, of which he was counsel and investigator, "proved the existence of a vast money trust, which it was the design of the Federal reserve act, to destroy."

The main credit for the enactment of the Federal reserve act, Mr. Untermyer said, belonged to Senator Owen. References of Senator Glass to the part Untermyer played in the preparation of the sq-called Treasury Bureau bill or in efforts to have it substituted for the Federal reserve act were characterized as "fiction, pure and simple from beginning to end." Mr. Untermyer said he knew of no such bill until the appearance of Senator Glass' book.

The youngster set about well to develop his theme. The time Christ ran away from his parents to go to the temple showed that the love of God is a potent force, this youngster said. He recalled the parental love which he had. Once he went to live with his aunt for a while. "It takes an unusual distraction to make a child at that early age forget his parents," he said. Then he told of the diversified interests of the pligrims who settled on the "cold, rockbound New England coast." Through all the tasks which these people had to accomplish, which required a unified interest, they had the "common element of self-worship."

Everybody stood up as they came in, both the President and Mrs. Coolidge smiling. A lady sitting behind this reporter had a dickens of a time keeping her youngster from crying out that his new shoes were burning his feet.

Col. Starling escorted them to their seats, about four rows from the front and the muscles in young Lium's face could be seen to twitch. He got up from his chair on the dais, came to the reading stand and said, "We will now sing the Doxology" and immediately the small organ at the side of the room began to peal and there arose a chorus of "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow."

The Lord's Prayer was recited next, both Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge joining in and then they sang hymn No. 123. "Come Thou Almighty King." Then Mrs. C. B. Wyant sang "Sacred Heart." She had a pretty, sweet voice, but she could not keep her eyes from Mrs. Coolidge and her voice trembled, yet the melody was not lost.

SHOWER UPON SHOWER

E. R. D. writes: I am 64. I have not lost a day's work from a cold for 46 years. I constantly suffered from colds when a boy in my teens.

I began to cure myself by bathing my head and chest and arms with cold water every morning and rubbing vigorously with a coarse towel. I gradually increased the washing, and for a great many years have bathed my entire body with cold water every morning and rubbed myself well.

If I am out in the rain and get wet, I take off my clothing as soon as I reach home and wash off with cold water and put on dry clothing.

In spite of all this, some one may catch cold occasionally. I have tried for this to bathe the feet with cold water before retiring and then bathe he head and cheat well in the morning, and follow it with a few minutes' deep-breathing exercises. These simple remedies have kept my family practically free from colds. I do not neglectifiesh air nor proper clothing.

valley area to a desolate, abandoned country by purchasing orchards and then permitting the land to go uncultivated and uninhabited.

The merchants have set up the claim that they are entitled to indemnity from the city of Los Angeles for the loss of oustomers who once supported the small communities in the valley.

Los Angeles has claimed that it has acted fairly with the land owners, who were bought out, but declines to go so far as to recognize a liability for the loss of trade in everyday business. The assembly of the California legislature, after an investigation, passed a resolution at its last session condemning the Los Angeles methods of land acquisition and urging recognition of the merchants' claims.

This scene of the latest blow by valley ranchers is set beneath the towering crags of the high Sierra Nevadas. Mount Whitney, highest point in the United States, tops the snow-covered range in plain view of Lone Pine and the State highway, which runs 500 miles from Los Angeles to Reno, Nev.

Four times previously has dynamite been employed to strike blows in the war, twice recently. The last previous was the blasting of a power house intake section near Big Pine, within full view of the homes of the guards and employed of the Los Angeles bureau of water and power.

The other recent outrage was the destroying of 350 feet of steel pipe which syphoned the water over a mountain at No Name Canyon, near Haiwee reservoir, and 70 miles south of Lone Pine.

The trend of the activities of local groups interested in the project indicates that Hoover Field will be selected as the temporary site. Survey to Be Started.

Maj. Covell said he will begin a survey of all prospective temporary landing fields tomorrow or the next day with an officer of the Army Air Service. He expects to be able to report to the Commissioners within two weeks, and by that time it will be definitely known what temporary field has been selected. However, Hoover Field may be chosen at once and negotiations immediately begun with the Department of Agriculture for the strip of land.

SENATORIAL CAMPAIGNS.

With the close of the Seventieth Congress the terms of 32 senators will end. Successors to 24 of the 32 will be nominated in the primaries, while the other six are representing States which still hold to the convention plan of making party nominations.

Of the senators whose terms expire with the next Congress twenty are Democrats, eleven are affiliated with the Republican party, and one is designated as Farmer-Labor. Seven States are almost certain to return Republicans-California, Connecticut, Maine, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Vermont and Wisconsin. In the case of the last named, it is assumed that 'Young Bob" LaFollette will be a candidate to succeed himself, and that he will still claim to be a Republican.

There can scarcely be a doubt as to the results in Florida, Texas, Missouri, Virginia, Tennessee, Mississippi, Arizona or New Mexico. Democrats will be chosen in all eight of those States unless there should be a political earthquake.

The seventeen States in which each party has a fighting chance are Nebraska, Maryland, Indiana, New Jersey, West Virginia, North Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Nevada, Michigan, Washington, Massachusetts, New York, Rhode Island, Utah and Delaware.

Among the doubtful seventeen in which the chances appear to be more favorable to the election of a Republican than a Democrat are New Jersey, West Virginia, Minnesota, Wyoming, Nevada, Michigan, New York and Rhode Island.

With the practical certainty that the Re publicans will capture 7 out of the 11 seats which they now hold out of the 32 which become vacant, and more than an average chance to win 8 from their opponents, it would seem that there is little likelihood that the control of the Senate will pass out of the hands of the party now in power as a result of the senatorial elections of 1928, the campaign for which is already started in most of the States where the fight is likely to be vigorous.

THE YELLOW LIGHT DANGER.

General disregard of the yellow caution signal in electrically controlled streets is bound to lead to serious consequences. Near accidents have become frequent. Traffic halted by a red lamp begins to move as soon as the signal changes to yellow, and other vehicles proceeding at right angles, also upon the yellow light, are hard put to avoid collisions. The situation can not be bettered until traffic authorities clarify the regulations concerning automatic traffic signals.

The law states clearly that vehicles halted by a red signal shall not enter the intersection until the light has become green. Those edging forward on the vellow light clearly violate the law. There is no well-defined regulation, however, governing operation of vehicles proceeding upon the green light when it flashes to yellow immediately before the intersection is reached. Theoretically, the yellow light being designed to clear the intersection, if the vehicle has not yet proceeded past the crosswalk it must be halted immediately. The regulations provide further, however, that a vehicle must be equipped with foot brakes capable of bringing it to a halt from a speed of 20 miles an hour within 50 feet. If the yellow light flashes when the vehicle is within 50 feet of the intersection, the car can not be halted in time. District motorists do not know how to operate their vehicles under this rule. If, while proceeding on the green light, they are within 50 feet of the intersection when it changes to vellow, shall they attempt to stop, or shall they proceed through? Police are not able to answer the question. The traffic director should make an official ruling upon the subject before a serious accident occurs.

THE BELLS OF PRINCETON.

During the commencement exercises at Princeton last week the alumni presented the university with a carillon of 51 bells, which gives old Princeton one of the finest sets of chimes in America. The gift directs attention to the fact that bells are among the most anclent forms of music producers known to man.

The Smithsonian Institution has just issued handbook on musical instruments, prepared by Miss Florence Densmore, in which we are told that all musical instruments, varied and highly developed as they are, can be reduced to four simple classifications. They include sonorous instruments, such as gongs, bells and rattles; wind instruments beginning with the flute and ending with the fearsome saxophone: stringed instruments, ranging from the banto to the piano; and vibrating membranes, including drums, tambourines and "throat horns."

The reason why the alumni of Princeton chose bells as their gift to their alma mater was probably because "the extent to which man has leaned upon instruments to express his ions in all phases of existence is illustrated by the bell," according to the compiler of the brochure just issued by the Smithsonian, who adds: "More intimate than any other inand sorrows of mankind. It has rung for weddings and funerals, given the alarm of danger. in scenes of peace, and has been heard as the cattle bell. The jester's cap was trimmed with bells, and in ancient synagogues the high priest's robe was edged with golden bells."

Bells have been used particularly in religlous ceremonies, pagan and Christian, from the times of the feast of Osiris in ancient Egypt. They were used in Greece, Rome and Persia, while in China and Japan are still to be found bells that date back to the earliest Fabulists and poets have written of bells. Every schoolboy has read of the manner in which they "tinkle, tinkle, tinkle in the icy air of night," and many of them recall the punishments meted out for failure to respond promptly when the teacher agitated the clapper in the old hand bell, back in the days of the district school, when the bell and the birch were the symbols of educational authority. That carillon was an appropriate gift of the alumni to old Princeton.

VOTERS WHO DO NOT VOTE.

If Senator Reed, of Missouri, would raise his voice against the failure of voters to vote, instead of suggesting that voters are bought, he would find the public with him. Although President Coolidge's list of desirable reforms, cited at Hammond, Ind., made bare mention of the listlessness of voters, it was at least mentioned, while Senator Reed failed to stress the dangerous neglect of duty on the part of voters.

Pennsylvania had a population of 9,300,000 in 1925, and it is estimated that the number of voters in that State is 4.000,000. The total vote in the presidential election of 1924, the largest vote ever cast in Pennsylvania, was 2,118,240. In 1926 the total vote was 1,470,-867, or only about 26 per cent of the total possible vote. Of these William S. Vare received 822,187, only 20,000 more than were cast for his predecessor in 1922. William B. Wilson, who was supported by both the Democratic and Labor parties, received 640,-680 votes, 29 votes less than were cast by the Democratic and Labor voters in 1922. Vare's plurality over Wilson was 173,507. It is asserted that this plurality was made up of stuffed or purchased votes. If the purchase of votes is as easy as Senator Reed intimates it is strange that some investment was not made in the 2,529,133 stay-at-home voters in Pennsylvania last year.

Voters know very well that no one can purchase sufficient votes to determine the result when hundreds of thousands of votes are involved. The Australian ballot has practically eliminated purchased votes, because the purchaser can not be sure that the voter will 'deliver the goods."

The extravagant use of money in primary campaigns is not any proof that votes are purchased. Indeed, it is evidence that votes can not be bought, but must be obtained by energetic canvassing. The candidates in the Pennsylvania primaries were all tarred by the same stick in the matter of using large sums of money for canvassing. But there is no law against this practice, and in a large State it is impossible to wage a campaign without spending large sums of money.

If all the voters of Pennsylvania had gone to the polls in 1926, the senatorial result might have been different, although no one questions the fact that the Republicans greatly outnumber the Democrats. The Vare and Wilson vote is substantially in line with the party votes in 1922. There is as much reason for charging corruption in 1922 as in 1926, and no more. Unless the Senate can be convinced that Pennsylvania has elected a Democrat instead of a Republican, it is difficult to see how it can refuse to seat William S. Vare. But when only 26 per cent of the voters of a State take the trouble to carry on the government, it is a situation that ought to engage the attention of Senator Reed and all other patriots.

TREES FOR PAPER.

Dr. Ralph McKee, of Columbia University, and Dr. A. D. Stout, of the New York Bo tanical Gardens, backed by a large commercial paper mill, have developed a hybrid poplar tree for production of wood pulp that will grow to a height of 60 feet and a thickness of 18 inches in 18 years. The paper obtained from poplar pulpwood, according to Dr. Mc-Kee, is of quality superior to that now generally obtained from spruce.

W. P. Beazzell, New York editor, recently told a group of Pennsylvania newspaper men that the American newspaper had grown to be a billion dollar industry. Growth to this tremendous size has caused some concern regarding the future of spruce pulpwood, the source of supply for the paper upon which the industry absolutely depends. The Department of Agriculture has been experimenting for some time with paper produced from hardwoods. This process, however, is still in the experimental stage and practically all newsprint, so-called, today is made from spruce

Its spruce timber supply is a vital consideration to the producing mill. Recently several such establishments have found it wise to curtail or stop production in the United States. moving their equipment across the border into Canada to locate in the midst of great forests. By controlling their cutting, and reforesting immediately thereafter, they believe it possible to assure a perpetual supply of spruce, although, because of the comparatively slow growth of the timber, they must keep large areas in reserve at all times. Development of a fast-growing poplar satisfactory for the production of newsprint will be of great value to the producing mills, and incidentally to publishers and the reading public as well.

THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE.

Once more the English languages is to under go a reformation. The Anglo-American conference on English, meeting in London, has named committee of 100 to consider the "problems of the common language of the English-speak-ing countries." Much criticism of the way in which the mother tongue is abused was voiced by delegates to the conference, but they were about it any more clearly than is here set forth many dialects as there are individuals who use this form of speech; a statement that con closer to being axiomatic than many that the famous and rebellious philosopher has made.

Using the exaggerated form which so appeals to him, George Bernard Shaw insisted that lish is not one language but consists of as be looked for with great interest.

Most of those who struggle with the perplexitles and gradations of English, as it is variously interpreted, will be puzzled to know what standard the members of the conference committee intend to use in purifying the spoken word. It is customary for the purists in the United States to sigh for the pronunciation and enunciation of the British, but who would adopt the speech of a Yorkshireman or the dialect of a Cockney as the model for others to follow?

If one of the many inflections common to this country is to be made the model for others to follow, which one will it be? Except for Back Bay Bostonese, there is little to recommend the nasal wanderings which accompany conversation in the New England regions. The Southern drawl has a pleasing sound, but not when it is grafted to the illiteracies that resulted when African stock attempted to master a new tongue. The hale and hearty idiom of the West is American, surely -but is it English?

It would be creating a new language to consolidate only the good of all these dialects and set the finished product up as true and perfect language, and English would be robbed of some of its best elements if any one of its forms should be discarded entirely. Again, how can perfection keep pace with growth? No sooner will the savants have established their code than new words and idioms will be knocking at the door seeking admission, so that thoughts may be better expressed.

The English language is like the sea, fed by many fresh streams and noble rivers, bearing divers colors and smacking of the soils; and yet the sea is clear and hath a salty savor

PREFERENCE FOR APARTMENTS.

While the scientists of the Smithsonian Institution are delving into the history of the first "apartment houses" or pueblos of the Southwest, the Bureau of Labor Statistics has been investigating the growth in popularity of the modern apartment house as compared with the single "homes" in urban centers. The statisticians find that there has been a marked change from single dwellings to apartments within the last few years, especially in cities of 500,000 and over, of which there are fourteen in the United States.

Of the fourteen cities only two show the slightest indication of a desire on the part of the inhabitants to return to the single home. These are Baltimore and Milwaukes. In all the others apartment life seems to be growing in attractiveness. In Baltimore the percentage of population living in apartments, or multifamily dwellings, was 10.6 in 1921, and only 6.8 in 1926. In Milwaukee, 28.7 per cent of the people lived in apartments in 1925, and in 1926 the percentage was reduced to 19.5.

In the borough of Manhattan 99.9 per cent of the people live in apartments. In Washington, while there were 24.6 per cent among the apartment dwellers recorded in 1921, the percentage reached 56.3 last year.

The real object of the survey by the Labor Department was to ascertain the effect of the change in the character of homes occupied by the people upon the kind of work demanded by those employed in construction industry.

Speaking broadly, says the report, the one family dwelling is primarily a matter of brick and wood, and the workers employed are chiefly bricklayers and carpenters. The large apartment houses, on the other hand, while still demanding the carpenter and the bricklayer, also call for structural iron and steel work and for concrete work on a large scale. besides the products of many other industries which have little or nothing in common with the building of the cottage or bungalow. While apartment house construction produces a shortage in the demand for some classes of skilled labor, the increased demand for the services of men of other trades apnears to balance the scales, so that labor as a whole is scarcely affected one way or the other by the change in the taste of the American homeseeker back to the designs of the pueblos of prehistoric times.

DIPLOMA MILLS IN EXCELSIS.

The diploma mill in action in the United States is a fine example of aggressive and daring dishonesty, but in competition with the same class of machination in Mexico, it must he conceded that it takes a back seat. The Mexican project is conceived on a far more grandiose scale. All sorts of degrees, from bachelor of arts to doctor of philosophy, literature, science, or medicine, may be obtained in a few months or a few days on payment of certain fees nicely graduated according to the degree sought and also according to the financial standing of the applicant. No study, no examination is necessary—the one essential is cash. A short course of study is, indeed, occasionally outlined, but the letter of information contains the broad hint that this preliminary may be dispensed with, provided the money is forthcoming.

A delightful variant on the United States practice is afforded by the intimation that all comers, however high or low their educational attainments may be, can have a degree, through the enterprising Mexican mill, from any American or European university. Into this splendidly expeditious service are pressed -all unwittingly, of course-names of institutions of world-wide renown-Oxford, the Sorbonne, Vienna, Harvard, Columbia, et al. For the sheepskins containing these magnificent certificates the fee is correspondingly large-but the larger the better and the more grist they bring to the diploma mill. If one is ambitious and can afford to pay for the luxury, one may have several degrees from different foreign institutions at the same time.

One of the prospectuses is particular frank as to the conditions it imposes. It caters for physicians, pharmacists, engineers, lawyers, and members of other professions. It is care ful to point out that these degrees permit their possessors to function in the United States and abroad and then goes on to give this illuminating piece of information:

It is to be noted that, in order to obtain

It is understood that the practice under re view has been brought to the attention of the Mexican Postoffice Department, which is conducting an investigation. The outcome will

Don't Pet the Boy Too Much = By ROBERT QUILLEN =

THE jungle cat, as you know, will fight for her young. Approach her den at your peril. But now imagine one of her young full grown, and imagine it approaching to share a kill she has made. She doesn't purr a greeting; she snarls a warning. Let the trifling rascal kill his own meat.

Even the gentle birds fight to protect their young in a nest. But when the young are feathered they are forced out and taught to fly. They may be fed for a few days after they leave the nest, but after that they must fend for themsleves.

It is Nature's way. She weans the youngsters, and thus only can they learn self-reliance.

Mortal mothers, guided by affection and imagination instead of instinct, too often handicap their sons and in many instances doom them to ultimate failure and insignificance by too much petting. Their loving anxiety keeps the youngsters soft and keeps them from learning to stand on their own feet.

Petted and shielded darlings do become useful and successful men after the world has cuffed some of the nonsense out of them, but they get many a lashing they might have escaped, and it isn't probable that they ever become the men they might have been if given a fair chance.

A fair chance means a chance to get out of the nest-out of the den-away from mama's shielding hand-and take the world's hard knocks while one is young and able to learn quickly. Don't be afraid the boy will go to the dogs if out of your sight. If you have done your duty until he is 16-taught him to despise the wrong things and honor the right things—that is all you can do. The rest depends on what is in him. If he is normal he will go through a period of apparent idiocy, try to seem tough, and in many ways make an ass of himself, but that will tion. When it is finished he will hit his stride. He will begin to become a proper man, or he will go to the devil, depending almost wholly on the qualities that are built into the fabric of him. He will be what he is destined to be. If he is destined to be a nothing, apron strings won't save him. If he has the equipment of manhood, contact with life in the raw won't

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Gen. Mitchell and 'he Navy.

To the Editor of The Post-Sir: Gen. Mitchell fired his "big guns" at the Navy, but the bombardment did not make the slightest impression upon the target. His "big guns" had about th same effect upon the Navy as a .22caliber rifle would have upon the U.

What is the general's idea in being opposed to naval aviation? If his purpose is to help aviation, he is on wrong track. Naval officers are not the kind of men to be coerced into an argument with a man who, it seems, does not know what he is talking about. Maybe the general did not st enough publicity several years ago to satisfy him, and now he takes this opportunity to get some more. There is a good old saying: "Actions speak louder than words." Mitchell's idea is to help aviation along, it would be wise for him to folthe proverb. Col. Lindbergh did not do a great deal of unnecessary talking, yet he did more to benefit aviation in 331/2 hours of action than years by talking. It takes actions to put things over in this day and age.

MOVIE INDUSTRY KEEPS A STATE DEPARTMENT

Delicate International Tinges of Films Are Censored in Many Cases.

DEALINGS WITH NATIONS

Hollywood, Calif., June 18 (By A. P.). launched five years ago to censor por-

The "state department" of the films, launched five years ago to censor portions of picture productions which have delicate international tinges, has grown to a point where "diplomatio" exchanges have been had with virtually all foreign nations:

F. W. Beetson, secretary of the Association of Motion Picture Producers, said today hundreds of pictures had been turned over to the Public Relations Department, as it is known to film circles. Some have been abandoned, while others have been abandoned, while others have been abandoned, while others have been sharply trimmed to avoid parts that might prove objectionable to nationals of foreign countries.

When such film stories come to his notice, the "secretary" of the department searches his file to see if any previous representations or letters or information have been received which touch on the subjects involved. If so, he makes the necessary corrections at once, if no such information is available, however, he gets in touch with the local consul of the country affected and informs him just what the picture will show. The consul then either acts in the capacity of a gensor or refers the matter to his government.

In rare cases ambassadors at Washington have been called on to decide whether favorable or adverse feeling would be created by certain scenes or titles. Several times pictures with Mexican locales have been sent complete to Mexico City for inspection by the educational and foreign relations departments of the Mexican government before being permitted to projection in the United States.

Beetson said no working agreement existed between the Federal Government and the movie foreign censorship department, but that the system actually constituted cooperation with the foreign affairs offices of the government so far as the film industry was concerned.

The commercial phase is not lost sight of, he said, because a film which offended patriotic feeling or racial

Queen Mary's Hobby Is Collecting Fars

London, June 19 (By A. P.).—One of Queen Mary's hobbies is the collection of fans, which she inherited from her mother, the Duchess of Teck. Princess Mary, her daughter, is also a fan collector, but has nothing like the quantity or the valuable specimens which Queen Mary shows to her most intimate friends. There are jeweled fans, painted fans, lace and feathered fans of all shapes and sizes.

One of the most remarkable fans in the collection was made in England some years ago. The sticks are of red tortoise shell with a crown and the queen's initials "V. M." on the outer stick. The fan is covered with special feathers from the wings of woodcocks. As only one such feather is found on each wing, 3,600 woodcocks, shot by the king and his friends, were required to make the fan.

DAUGHTER SEEKS DIVORCE

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Y. Moore will en-ertain at a dinner-dance tonight in conor of Judge, and Mrs. John M. sternhagen. Special to The Washington Post. New York, June 19.—Winifred Sack as the "beautiful prodigy," will not marry Bainbridge Colby, former Secretary of State in Wilson's Cabinet, ac-Mrs. Watson Freeman Clark and her daughter, Miss Charlotte Clark, have departed for their summer home on Cape Cod, Mass. ville Stoner. That is, "Mother" Stone could not control the least suspicion of a twinkle in her eyes while she made her denial.

Winifred and Colby are both getting divorces, Winifred on the grounds of infidelity, from Louis Hyman and Colby on statutory grounds from Natalle Sedgwick Colby, author of "Green Forest." They have known each other for a number of years, both being writers of some note. Mrs. Stoner admitted her daughter and Colby were great friends but as to their marriage plans—she doubted there were any.

"Winifred's first marriage to Count Charles Phillipe De Bruche was ideal," said her mother. "She was only 16 at the time, but she had the intellect of a man of 50. She had already written several books and could speak nine languages. She had passed her college examinations at the age of eight and had published a "Mother Goose" in Esperanto when she was seven. So you see she was fitted to be the companion of De Bruche, who was unusually intelligent. They were intensely happy for a year—then he was killed in an automobile accident.

"Her second marriage a year later to Lieut, and Mrs. Milton E. Miles, who recently arrived from China, have been visiting Mrs. Miles' parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jerman. Lieut. Miles has been ordered to Annapolis, where they expect to go this week. Dr. and Mrs. E. V. Wilcox expect to go to San Francisco this week. They will sail July 2 for Honolulu to remain several weeks, later taking a trip around the world. They plan to return in January.

EARLE

A bill, the general cast of which is excellent, flashes through the stellar places of the Earle this week where "The Girard Ensemble," direct from the West Coast, toplines. In a setting of gold, with costumes refulgent as the departing sun through the Golden Gate, this festival of wit and song carries on, sweeping before it waves of appreciation. Mr. Girard and his "Peaches," indeed, have quality and are worthy of genuine and sincere praise. Archie and Gertie Falls next, per-

Archie and Gertie Falls next, per-haps, call forth attention on the part of the critic. Here is some exceedingly hne acrosate star, marked not only by cleverness but by a grace and ease that places it in a class by itself. There is tumbling from one end of the stage to the other and an outstanding flop by the male member of the team which calls for more than the ordinary definess in twirling the body through space.

Sonality of the bill.

The picture for the week is "Too Many Crooks," a comedy featuring the foolish virgin who would get real crook color for a play she is determined to write by inviting into her father's house a bunch of crooks. The tangle comes when a real bunch of crooks are sent in when those who are guarding the enterprise determine that such shall be the case rather than faking a bunch of shady characters. In the end the little lady has learned her lesson about playwriting, and incidentally she acquires a husband. Mildred Davis is seen in the role of the would-be playwright and she carries off well the part assigned to her. Others seen to advantage in the cast are Lloyd Hughes, El Brendel and William V. Mong. Kinograms, a short comedy and Alexander Arons at the organ round out the bill.

COLUMBIA

A good comedy with a strong plot, starring Florence Vidor and Arnold Kent, "The World at Her Feet," will please the patrons of the Columbia this week.

The story is full of humorous moments, is one which could really happlease the patrons of the Columbia this week.

The story is full of humorous moments, is one which could really happen, is capably handled by each member of the cast, and is one which could bring home to some the fact that one must not let his or her business monopolize all one's time.

In "The World at Her Feet" it is the husband who is neglected. It is a case of where the ambition to become a great lawyer when the opportunity is presented, brings the wife into such prominence in the legal world that she has no time to see or even dine with her husband. In the years that go by the husband becomes infatuated with a woman who must give her husband cause to divorce her, and it is this which begins the complications, and the humorous situations, which lead to a cleverly executed climax.

Florence Vidor, as Jane Randall, carries her part as the brilliant lawyer, in splendid style: Arnold Kent, as the husband, Richard Randall, also a lawyer, is very good. Richard Tucker, as Dr. Smith, does well in the embarrassing situations in which he at times finds himself, and Margaret Quimby, as the doctor's wife, carries her small part capably.

"The World at Her Feet" is a refresh-

the doctor's wife, carries her small part capably.

"The World at Her Feet" is a refreshing comedy, in that, it has real plot—and not one with just "comedy," and the fact that it diverges from the usual path of stories.

Supplementing the feature is an excellent "Big Boy" comedy, "Atta Baby." interesting Pathe News with plctures of Chamberlin and Levine, as well as Lindbergh; Topics of the Day, and a scenic in technicolor.

The overture, "Selections from The Desert Song," is up to the usual standard of this house.

On the bill for the week is seen also Washington's favorite—former Sergt. Charles McDonald, the blind barytone. Charles McDonald, the blind barytone. His voice still casts its wonted spell over the audience and the bravery with which he meets and essays the polgnant role of entertainer, unable to know what lies beyond the footlights, awakens tender thoughts for the success of each song. And they go over big. The last is the most beautiful of all.

Hunter and Percival—he and she—in a "Surprise Noveity" surprise with the success that can attend nonsense of the more nonsensical character. Their act has the happy faculty of lifting one sut for himself and causing him to enjoy the offering so foolianty connected. Bee and Ray Goman, in "Dance Scandais," round out the personality of the bill.

The picture for the week is "Too

John Drew Reported As Slightly Better

San Francisco, June 19 (By A. P.).—
The condition of John Drew, 73-yearpld internationally known actor, who

He does all this with the aid of wardrobe helpers, of course, and with the lights back stage thrown on him, so that all may see with what rapidity he makes his changes.

changes.
Come then the Mandel Brothers, Come then the Mandel Brothers, as they might say in the movies. These fellows, on the Keith circuit for years in an acrobatic offering, have developed their powers of comedy so that now they challenge the headliners. After their own act, a veritable riot, they merge into a burlesque of the McGiville new performance. It is, in all truth, the funniest burlesque of the season, one of the finest bits of foolishness as seen here in years.

Comedy holds the center of the stage, them, at Keith's this week, with Joe Mandel winning the leather medals, or whatever it is Roland Robbins, the manager, confers on his laugh-makers. Jack Notworth, in the headline spot, gets away to a rather good reception; but even he must run to keep up with Jack Norworth, in the headline spot, gets away to a rather good reception; but even he must run to keep up with Joe Mandel, a composite of Charlie Chaplin and one of the Four Mark Brothers—the long, lean, lanky one.

Norworth is back in his old sketch, the Follies' farce that W. C. Fields bade good-by when he went into the movies, a satire on married life, by ittle, "The Nagger." In this bit of realism, Norworth is assisted by Dorothy Adelphi, who aids mightily in putting over the skit. In the aftermath, a couple of songs are wrenched loose from the Norworth thorax.

Park Theater last night witnessed the entire bill from the Little Theater last week, which comes up to the house on the hill every week. The one excep-tion, it is learned, will be next week, tion, it is learned, will be next week, because "Crime and Punishment," current at the Little Theater, has, to go to Baltimore and New York.

The feature picture is "Broken Blossoms," the picture that in 1919 led the way to artistic appreciation of the better class of films. D. W. Griffith is responsible for this tragedy, taken from a London Limehouse story by Thomas Burke. It is the story of the pathetic life of a fragile little waif of London's waterfront who has a "guardian" in the form of a brutal prizenghter. Her one friend is a young Chinese student, who has come to England as a missionary to the uncouth white man.

Lillian Gish portrays the leading role. Richard Barthelmess has the role of the celestial, in which he made his first success. It is a United Artists production. Accompanying it is an interesting survey of jungle life in Burma, and a Harry Langdon comedy. The Wardman Trio interprets the pictures.

LITTLE THEATER

In the Little Theater the feature picture is being presented for the first time in America. "Crime and Punishment," the novel by Dostolevsky, needs no introduction, and neither do the Moscow Art Theater Players, under the famous Stanislavsky. Robert Wiene, who made "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari," was behind the egaphone.
"Crime and P-nishment" proves once more that the motion picture, in capable hands, is to be reckoned with among the arts. The treatment of the theme with the camera, with the superbestings, and the world-famous acting of the Moscow artists, cre tes a spell that grips anaudlence in a vise of wonder and appreciation.

Also on the program are an incredibly beautiful series of animated and intricate silhoustes, relating an old Oriental legend, a short comedy played entirely by fishes, of all things, and the newsreel. The Little Theater Trio does an excellent overture and its customary good accompaniment.

DRASTIC MEASURES ARE PASSED IN 1927 AS CURBS ON CRIME

Legislatures of 19 States Add to Penal Code in War on "Old Offender."

Thirteen other States adopted measures, such as those altering the penalodes to make former misdemeanor therine legislater and the nine-tecks on crime.

The measures adopted in the nine-en States generally tended toward an nerease of sentence, with a tightening if the legal net about the habitual riminal, the gangster, gunman and criminal, the gangster, gunman and hold-up man.

A significant feature of the anticrime legislation was the tendency to follow New York's pattern in curbing the activities of habitual criminals and the operations of bands of organized criminals. A number of States enacted laws comparable to New York's Baumes act. a piece of anticrime legislation

Checks on Firearms.

A number of legislatures discussed the carrying and use of firearms. Many States had already provided them-selves with checks against this prac-tice, and several followed suit in 1927. Measures providing for criminal iden-tification were passed by several legis-latures.

The most drastic action toward curbing crime was taken in California th Dakota, North Dakota, Iowa and

New York.

New York's legislature passed 17 of 41 anticrime bills submitted the As anticrime bills submitted by the Baumes Crime Commission, headed by Senator Caleb H. Baumes, author of the Baumes act. Those failing of passage were considered the most important by the Baumes commission. Most of the seventeen laws enacted are virtually amendments to the penal law and code of criminal procedure. One provides that in all cases where appeal may be taken by the defendant the prosecution also may appeal.

Iowa's legislature passed a score of bills designed to make more thorny the path trod by the feet of criminals. Most of the measures vest greater authority in peace officers and increase the funtional capacity of prosecutors. The machine gun and automatic rific were outlawed, a criminal indentification measure was adopted and there was a general tightening of laws regarding automobile thefts and jury commissions.

An habitual criminal law, patterned

An habitual criminal law, patterned after New York's Baumes act, was the outstanding anticrime measure in South Dakota. The measure deviates auth Dakota. The measure deviates om its pattern, however, in that it akes discretionary instead of mantory the imposition of life sentence i fourth offenders. A bill permitting prosecution to comment on a demant's failure to testify also was

North Dakota's Law.

North Dakota added nine bills to the anticrime legislation of the year. Three of these are considered of prime imhese are considered of prime im-ance. They are the habitual crim-act, comparable to the Baumes the uniform motor vehicle theft and the law eliminating the af-vit of prejudice in criminal cases. Other laws speed up appeals and clarify and amend details of criminal procedure.

Minnesota passed legislation establishing. State hyperson of control of the control of th

Minnesota passed legislation estab-lishing a State bureau of criminal identification and record, passed a modified copy of the Baumes act, and raised to five years the peaality for use of firearms in commission of felony. As was done in several other States, a law was enacted making it compulsory for the district attorney to file reasons for dismissals.

law was enacted making it compulsory for the district attorney to file reasons for dismissals.

The California Legislature, having completely revised the penal code, adopted measures for speedier trials, always considered a crime deterrent. Laws were passed abolishing the raising of the plea of insanity during trial, making it more hazardous to use firearms in the commission of crime, and adopting an habitual criminal act, with life sentence for fourth offenders. Third offenders are to get twelve years without parole. Insanity must be a part of the initial plea, else separate trial will be made of this issue, subsequent to trial for offense.

Nebraska adopted a law much like New York's Baumes law. New Jersey provided for life sentence for fourth offenders. Indiana's General Assembly passed bills providing for establishment of a bureau of criminal identification, codification of its penal code and measures expected to speed up trials. Wyomin's legislators passed two bills to check the still prevalent cattle thie and New Mexico's lawmakers adopted measures to speed up trials and raising the penalty for embezzlement.

Kansas Code Drastic.

Kansas Code Drastic.

Kansas, going most States one better, will now impose life sentence on third offenders. A second sentence for telony will be twice the length of the first, the legislators decided. Embezdements by bank officers will bring them a 50 instead of a 15 year sentence under one new law. In Texas the embezzlement sentence was reduced from a minimum of five years to two years because of a general belief that the failure to obtain convictions was due to a "too harsh" sentence such convictions entailed.

7 Nations Play At Tennis Today

Tilden and Miss Wills Chief U. S. Hopes at Wimbledon.

Cochet Bars Advance of U. S. Ace; Mrs. Mallory Plays.

ONDON, England, June 19 (By A. P.).—Tennis champions of seven nations go into action at Wimble-don tomorrow in a tournament which promises as much of thrill and drama as any in the long history of British championship play.

America will enter the singles under the burden of popular favor, as close followers of tennis have picked Bill Tilden to best his French adversaries and Helen Wills to lead the international field in the men's and women's singles. Strangely, such a selection makes second choices of the present title holders, Jean Borotra, of France, and Mrs. Kathleen McKane Godiree, of England.

Angland.

By decree of the draw, Tilden must defeat Henri Cochet, his nemesis in last year's United States championships, before he can fight it out with either Lacoste or Borotra, one of whom is regarded certain to emerge from the lower half of the draw.

Such players as Tilden, Miss Wills, Mrs. Godfree and the French "musketeers" have more than made up for the absence of the magnetic Suzanne Lenglen from this year's tournament, and a heavy advance sale of tickets is reported.

Weather permitting, the entire first and of men's singles—64 matches will be played tomorrow.

While Tilden will be virtually alone as the United States candidate for the men's crown, Miss Wills is backed by such formidable countrymen as Mrs. Molla Mallory and Miss Elizabeth Ryan, who will pair with her in doubles.

Hartford A. C. Refuses Forfeit From Motors

Yesterday's scheduled game between the Hartford and Northeast Motors teams in East section of the Capital City League was forfeited to the former team by Umpire Rhodes, when the Northeast Motors failed to put a team on the Washington Barracks Field. Manager Flester, of the Hartfords stated last night he did not wish to ac-cept the forfelt, but preferred to play the game at a later date.

Ken Holloway Wins for Detroit

Scatters 8 Safeties but Is Aided by Sharp Fielding.

Invaders Amass Lead Off Rookie: Threat in 9th Fails.

By SHIRLEY L. POVICH. Sports Editor, The Post.

Sports Editor, The Post.

K ENNETH HOLLOWAY pitched for the Detroit Tigers yesterday and Irving Hadley pitched for Washington. Both wore regulation big lesgue uniforms and pitched with their right arms, but there the similarity ended. Holloway pitched so well that the Tigers won the game, 5 to 1. Hadley was trying.

For six innings, third base was virgin territory to the Washington batters, and only one Washington player had been able to inspect second base. They scored a run off Holloway in the seventh inning and avoided a shut-out. The Detroit pitcher was in full command on every other occasion, and when he should not have allowed a hit he didn't.

when he should have the didn't.

Detroit took kindly to Hadley. The young Washington rookie was found for twelve hits in the eight innings he toiled, and a few bases on balls aided the Detroit cause. He also contributed a balk which allowed a runner to score

Despite the five runs Hadley allowed, he held the Tigers scoreless in five of the eight innings he pitched, but he allowed at least one safe hit in every inning. It was not until the fourth that the Tigers really solved the rookle, but in that inning they pounded out four clean hits including a double by 'ackle Tavener that aided in driving in three runs.

three runs.

The Detroit fleiders earned a vote of thanks .rom Holloway on mor than on: occasion. Harry Helimann, the big right fielder, was no drawback out there by the trill fence. He gathered in five put-outs in that vicinity and near scond base and contributed one assist. Gehringer, at second base, was knocked off his feet by a line drive off Goslin's bat in the third inning, but he held the ball after diving far to a left to wrap his glove around it. Tavener was an asset in the vicinity of second and third base.

Bob Reeves, Sam Rice and Muddy Ruel made two hits each off Holloway, but the remainder of the batting order offered little support. Leon Goslin made his first hit of the four-game series when he singled in the clight inning.

The Tigers hit safely in each of the series when he singled in the eighth inning.

The Tigers hit safely in each of the first three innings, but were held score-less by Hadley. With two out in the first, Hadley walked Manush who advanced to third on Fothergill's single to right field, but Fothergill was out stealing second. Helimann started off the second with a double past Rice and was sacrificed to third by Blue. He was out at the plate when Jadge threw to Ruel after taking Tavener's grounder. Tavener was thrown out in an attempt to steal second. Holloway singled through Reeves with none out

M. nush's single to center field started the Tigers on their three-run offensive in the fourth? Fothergill also singled to right, and Manush scored on Hellmann's sacrifice fly to Rice, Fothergill reaching second. Stewart threw out Blue, but Tavener scored Fothergill with a double to right field and himself scored on Woodsly's single to center.

The Nats obtained three hits off Holloway in the first two innings to no purpose. Rice singled to center to start the first inning, but was forced out by Stewart, who was later caught stealing. Goslin filed to Blue. In the second, with two out. Ruel and Bluege singled in succession, but Reeves fied to Fothergili.

singled in succession, but Reeves fied to Fothergili.

Thereafter Washington was field hitless by Holloway, who was aided in the third inning by Genringer's diving catch off Goslin. Hadley was the only player to reach base for four innings, being tendered a walk by Holloway to start the third.

Hadley escaped the fifth and sixth safely despite a single by Warner in the former inning and Blue's triple to centerfield in the sixth but the Tigers scored a run off one hit in the seventh and bunched two safeties to score their fifth run in the eighth. Hadley walked Woodall to start the seventh and the catcher advanced on Holloway's sacrifice. He scored on Warner's single to CONTINUED ON PAGE 13. COLUMN 5. CONTINUED ON PAGE 13, COLUMN 5.

HUDKINS AND BAKER MAY MEET IN RETURN MATCH

Brooklyn

Rickard Not to Have First Call on Dundee's Services.

McTigue and Delaney Training Hard for Bout, July 7.

Special to The Washington Post. Two york, June 19.—Unless they demand more money than Promoter Humber J. Fugazy figures they are capable of drawing at the gate. Ace Hudkins, of Omaha, and Sergt. Sammy Baker, of Mitchel Field, aviators' helpet, will meet in a return bout of ten rounds at Ebbets Field, shrooklyn, about three weeks hence. Fugazy had a long conference with the managers of both fighters yesterday, but no contracts were signed. It is expected this will be attended to tomorrow.

Hudkins and Baker put up a sensational fight at the Catholic Boys' Club benefit show a few nights ago at the Polo Grounds. Sammy won on a technical knockout when Referee Lou Magnolis stopped the fight in the seventh round because the Nebraskan was severely handicapped by a gash under the right eye. Hudkins wants to get even. Baker is anxious for a return bout because he figures he will stop the Wildcat legitimately next trip. TEW YORK, June 19.—Unless they

The fact that Fugazy is in a position to offer the winner a bout with Joe Dundee, newly-crowned world's welterweight champion, before the summer season wanes indicates that he will have no difficulty in closing the match.

Dundee is sure to defend his title, and for Fugazy, some time this summer. Reports that Joe will make a tour of the no-decision belt and then come back and fight for Tex Rickard have been spiked by Manager Maxman, who wants it understood Fugazy has first call on Dundee's services.

The scheduled arrival here on Tuesday of Jack Dempsey will stimulate business hereabouts in the boxing racket. After his arrival the former heavyweight champion will go into a huddle with Tex Rickard and then depart for Saratoga Springs to finish his training for his bout with Jack Sharkey on July 21.

Mike McTigue and Jack Delaney are hard at work training for their light-heavyweight title fight at the Yankee Stadium on July 7. Mike is doing his stuff at Andover, N. J., while Jack is working at his New Hampshire mountain camp. Strange to relate most of the wiseacres are figuring on Michael to lick Delaney and thus regain the title he dropped to Paul Berienbach about two years ago 'n a very close fight.

AILLE ROWBOAT MOTORS

Now that the derby candidates are out of the way with the exception of the big event at Latonia and the Dwyer stakes, it looks to a man up a tree as though the real horses will have an opportunity to strut their onions. Frankly speaking, I don't think much of the 3-year-olds running this season. All derbles have been a flop since Col. Matt Winn took away the glamour, mazuma and everything else down at Churchill Downs.

Monday is usually termed the "wash day" card, but an excellent field will compete in a majority of the events at the various tracks and your Uncle Bertram expects to send you on your merry way with plenty of winners.

Out at Washington Park, the hot patocotic is PRINCE RONALD. This colt just arrived at the top of his form and he goes for the Downs. If you don't ride here it's because you are solid ders up.

Trainer Frank Taylor is sending entries from the Cold Stream stud entry in both the fourth and fifth events. He expects to win both of these races. Another probable winner rt this track is MOSES. He is due to awaken and run to best form.

Down at Latonia the chief of staff send SAAR along as the best proposition of the day, but I have a hunch that DAWN OF TOMORROW is peaches and cream. This one is much better than rated and is being handled by smart people. A word to the wise is just like a kick in the slats. CAPISTRANO gets a 5-point call for the opener, while NAMA may spring a big surprise in the fourth spasm.

From over 'ome in Canada CHIEF UNCAS is to be turned loose in a maiden race. This is just liket getting morey in a letter. BILLIKE is due to repeat, while the J. W. BEAN ENTRY seems to have things tied up in the opener.

Seat Pleasant Team Takes Other Game in New Loop.

The Marion A. C. and the Seat Pleasant teams won their inaugural games yesterday in the newly organized Beaver Heights League.

The 4-to-0 victory of the Marions over the Kroydens can be chiefly attributed to the excellent pitching of Bopp. Bopp granted only six scattered hits, and assured his own cause with a lusty home run in the sixth with a man on base.

A six-run attack in the second inning undoubtedly was the big factor in Beat Pleasant's 9-to-3 win over the Modern Woodman Team. The Seat Pleasant Team was in a batting mood, and would probably have run up a score if the same had nongressed more

DIEGEL'S FAMOUS APPROACH A THRILLER

BAGGED THE CANADIAN OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP

LEO DIEGEL

(By the Associated Press.) New York, June 19 .- Leo Diegel's reatest thrill is the silver lining of his keenest disappointment - the most pectacular shot in the final round of open championship in 1920.

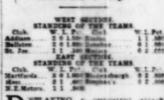

It was at Inverness that this affable homebred, playing in his first big tourthat traveled "round the world."
This was a memorable tournament, with Harry Vardon and Ted Ray, of Great Britain, pitting their skill against America's best.. As the field turned to the final 18, Vardon went to the front, closely pressed by Diegel.

Diegel overtook Vardon on the first nine in the afternoon. They were playing into the teeth of a veritable hurricane, and Diegel's chances appeared good, as Vardon began to falter under the gruelling pace.

"That meant par on the last four holes to tie Vardon, who looked like the only man I had to beat. I did it on the fifteenth and sixteenth.

"Then came the treacherous seventeenth—hardest on the course. It was a two-shot, par-four dogleg, lined with trouble. In front of the green was a water ditch which Vardon had failed to carry on his brassie second.

LONG STREAK Gertrude Ederle's Big Money OF BALLSTON IS HALTED

Arlington Bearcats Turn Trick Aided by Errors.

THE Arlington Bearcats stopped Ballston's 14-game winning streak first defeat of the season, 4 to 1.
W. Snoots' pitching for the Bearcat stook a prominent part in the victory. He limited the strong Ballston sluggers to only three hits. Ballston was unable to score until the sixth inning.

The Arlington Nine got away to a two-run lead in the first inning and added two more runs in the second frame. Ballston was credit-ed with two errors made by Ritnour at shortstop which figured in the second.

GOLF AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

By CYRIL WALKER, National Open Champion, 1924.

"Relax" means be natural; it does not mean loosen your hold on the club. The great majority of golf players go into golf in a manner different from their general make-up and consequently stiffen up or loosen up to an exaggerated degree. To relax, a player must not play under a tension. Just try to be normal and natural.

Of course, the thing that Trudy did is just as great today as it ever was but she was one of those one-shot celebrities, and now for show purposes she is just the girl who swam the channel a year ago. She'll never be in the same demand again, unless she swims the Atlantic and she can walk down Broadway or tool along in her red roadster today without creating the slightest com't run around screaming about one person forever.

Trudy's contract with Malone expired in May, so, of course, he doesn't count into her earnings any more. There seems to have been a cooling of that mutual confidence and admiration that Cyticle between them when Trudy was

Despite the loss of yesterday's game the Nationals do not have anything for which to apologize on their showing of late. They have won seven of the last ten games played.

For a moment yesterday Manager George Moriarty forgot that he is no longer an umpire. In the sixth, with Blue on third as a result of his triple, he rushed excitedly toward Ump Rowland from the coacher's box at third, yelling "That's a balk!" He was referring to one of Pitcher Hadley's motions: Rowland differed with George, in the eighth, however, Hadley made an unquestionable balk and Blue accored from third bacs.

ivory from the shoulders up.

Trainer Frank Taylor is sending entries from the Gold Stream stud entry in both the fourth and fifth events. He expects to win both of these races. Another probable winner rt this track is MOSES. He is due to awaken and run to best form.

Down at Latonia the chief of staff send SAAR along as the best proposition of the day, but I have a hunch that DAWN OF TOMOREOW is peaches and cream. This one is much better than rated and is being handled by smart people. A word to the wise is just like a kiek in the slats. CAPISTRANO gets a 5-point call for the opener, while NABMA may spring a big surprise in the fourth spasm.

From over 'ome in Canada CHIEF UNCAS is to be turned loose in a maiden race. This is just liket getting money in a letter. MILLIKE is due to repeat, while the J. W. BEAN ENTRY seems to have things tied up in the opener.

WASHINGTON PARK. Special to The Washington Post.

New YORK, June 19.—Uniess they demand more money than Promoter Rumber J. Fugasy figures they are capable of drawing at the gate. Ace Hudkins, of Omaha, and Sergt. Sammy Baker, of Mitchel Field, aviators helper, will meet in a return bout of ten rounds at Ebbets Field, strooklyn, about three weeks hance. Pugasy had a long conference with the managers of both fighters yesterday, but no contracts were signed. It is expected this will be attended to tomorrow.

Hudkins and Baker put up a sensational fight at the Catholic Boys' Club benefit show a few nights ago at the Folo Grounds. Sammy won on a technical knockout when Referee Lou Magnolia stopped the fight in the seventh round because the Nebraskan was severely handicapped by a gash under the right eye. Hudkins wants to get even. Baker is anxious for a return bout because he figures he will stop the Wildcat legitimately next trip.

Dundee is sure to defend his title, and for Fugaxy, some time this summer. Reports that Joe will make a tour of the no-decision beit and then come back and fight for Tex Rickard have been spiked by Manager Maxman, who wants it understood Fugaxy has first call on Dundee's services.

The scheduled arrival here on Tuesday of Jack Dempasy will stimulate usiness hereabouts in the boxing acket. After his arrival the former eavyweight champion will go into a undid with Tex Rickard and then deart for Saratoga Springs to finish his raining for his bout with Jack Sharkey in July 21.

Mike McTigue and Jack Delaney are hard at work training for their light-heavyweight title fight at the Yankee Stadium on July 7. Mike is doing his stuff at Andover. N. J., while Jack is working at his New Hampshire mountain camp. Strange to relate most of the wiseacres are figuring on Michael to lick Delaney and thus regain the title he dropped to Paul Berlanbach about two years ago '1 a very close fight.

Now that the derby candidates are out of the way with the exception of the big event at Latonia and the Dwyer stakes, it looks to a man up a tree as though the real horses will have an opportunity to strut their onions. Frankly speaking, I don't think much of the 8-year-olds running this season. All derbies have been a flop since Col. Matt Winn took away the glamour, masuma and everything else down at Churchill Downs.

Monday is usually termed, the "wash day" card, but an excellent field will compete in a majority of the events at the various tracks and your Uncle Bertram expects to send you on your merry way with plenty of winners.

Out at Washington Park, the hot patocotic is PRINCE BONALD. This colt just arrived at the top of his form and he goes for the Downs. If you don't ride here it's because you are solid ders up.

A TARW

New York, June 19.—Leo Diegel's greatest thrill is the silver lining of his keenest disappointment — the most spectacular shot in the final round of his heroic but losing fight for the cpen championship in 1920.

It was at Inverness that this affable homebred, playing in his first big tournament, banged out an approach shot that traveled "round the world."

This was a memorable tournament, with Harry Vardon and Ted Ray, of Great Britain, pitting their skill against America's best. As the field turped to the final 18, Vardon went to the front, closely pressed by Diegel.

Diegel overtook Vardon on the first nine in the afterneon. They were playing into the testh of a varitable hurricane, and Diegel's chances appeared good, as Vardon

Trudy's contract with Malone expired in May, so, of course, he doesn't count into her earnings any more. There seems to have been a cooling of that mutual confidency and admiration that existed between them when Trudy was the greatest girl in-the world because she says. Thank God, that's over."

It has been impressed upon Trudy that if Mr. Malone had spent more time and energy hustling for contracts of one kind or another when her fame was new she might have collected the big money that she expected.

Tunney's Next Bout

New York, June 19 (By A. P.).—The world heavyweight championship fight between Gene Tunney and the winner of the Sharkey-Dempsey fray here. July 21, has been set for the week of September 5 to 10 and will not take place in this city, the New York Times says.

Promoter Tex Rickard is inclined to favor Chicago as a site, although still considering offers from Baltimore and Philadelphia, the story says.

Johany Buckley, manager of Jack Sharkey, announced after a conference with Rickard today that he accepted terms for the Dempsey bout and probably would sign tomorrow. Dempsay is expected from the West early this week and Rickard is considered of obtaining his signature at once for the July 21 battle.

The bantams battled to a thrilling draw at the Collseum last spring, and have made careful preparations for their second meeting of ten rounds to a decision by two judges and the referee.

Taylor has expressed confidence of finishing the match in five rounds, but Cahnoneri replied to this with equal assurance of victory. While Tony did not predict a knock-out, he said he was sure of victory.

In customary tabloid form, Donizetti's opera "Lucia di Lammermoor" will be presented by the National Grand Opera Company through the red network of the National Broadcasting Co., including WRC, at 9 o'clock tonight. The production is under the direction of Cesare Sodero, and will feature Genia Zielinaka, soprano, as "Lucia."

The opera, which is from the text by Cammerano founded on Sir Walter Scott's novel, "The Bride of Lammer-moor," was first produced in Naples in 1835. Its first New York performance in English took place in 1845. Operatio devotees will probably recall that Marion Talley first made her great success at the Metropolitan in the role of "Lucia."

The musical comedy productions of Romberg, Victor Herbert, Frimi and Karn will be among those works drawn upon for selections from musical comedies and light operas of yesterday in the Spotlight Hour from WJZ at 8 o'clock tonight.

"Blake, of Scotland Yard," episode No. 1, will be heard if dials are turned to WABC at 7:15 o'clock tonight. The Atlantic String Quartet and the Fireside Boys are also on the program, scheduled for 8 and 8:30 o'clock, respectively.

A play by play account of the Washington-Philadelphia baseball game by Thoraton Fisher will be put on the air from WRC at 2 o'clock. At the close of the game there will be an hour of music by the Hofbrau Orchestra, followed by dinner music by the Waldorf-Astoria Orchestra. Flangan Brothers, with banjo and accordion, will present a fifteen-minute sketch, followed by a discussion "Acting Versus Personality" by Frank Ferguson, dramatist. Mr. Ferguson's association with the theater as an actor, author and director, furnishes him with material that interests the layman.

Popular dance orchestras may be heard after 11 o'clock from Stations WRVA, Richmond; WSAI, Cincinnati; WIW, Cincinnati, and WCCO, Minneapolis, not forgetting the Nighthaws froits at 12:45 o'clock from WDAF, at Kanasa City. of ability.

In customary tabloid form, Donizetti's opera "Lucia di Lammermoor" will be presented by the National Grand Opera Company through the red network of the National Broadcasting Co, including WRC, at 9 o'clock tonight. The production is under the direction of Cesare Sodero, and will feature Cenia Zielinaka, soprano, as "Lucia."

The opera, which is from the text by Cammerano founded on Sir Walter Soott's novel, "The Bride of Lammermoor," was first produced in Naples in 1835. Its first New York performance in English took place in 1845. Operatic devotees will probably recall that Marion Talley first made her great success at the Metropolitan in the role of "Lucia."

The musical comedy productions of Romberg. Victor Herbert, Friml and Kern will be among those works drawn upon for selections from musical comedies and light operas of yesterday in the Spotlight Hour from WJZ at 8 o'clock tonight.

"Blake, of Scotland Yard," episode No. 1. will be heard if dials are turned to WABC at 7:15 o'clock tonight. The Atlantic String Quartet and the Pireside Boys are also on the program, scheduled for 8 and 8:30 o'clock, respectively.

A play by play account of the Washington-Philadelphia baseball game by Thornton Fisher will be put on the air from WRC at 2 o'clock. At the close of the game there will be an hour of music by the Hofbrau Orchestra, followed by dinner music by the Waldorf-Astoria Orchestra. Flanagan Brothers, with banjo and accordion, will present a fifteen-minute sketch, followed by a discussion "Acting Versus Personality" by Frank Ferguson, dramatist. Mr. Ferguson's association with the theater as an actor, author and director, furnishes, him with material that interests the layman.

Pépular dance orchestras may be heard after 11 o'clock from Stations WRVA, Richmond; WBAI, Cincinnati; WIW. Cincinnati, and WCCO. Minneapolis, not forgetting the Nighthawk frolle at 12:45 o'clock from WDAF, at kanasa City. The Kanasa City Athletic Club Orchestra will be heard during this period tonight.

Dr. Isaac Landman, editor of American Herbew, will talk on "The American Hebrew," at 3 o'clock this afternoon from Station WGBS, New York City, in an International Hebrew day program, H. Feabody Nelson, tenor, and Muriel Anderson, ocntraito, will sing old He-

Anderson, ocntraito, will sing old Heweek songs, and Oliver smith will deliver an address, "Stained Olass Windows in Synagogues."

Beginning tomorrow, the lake front along Grant Park will assume a military aspect as preparations for the war show actually gets under way.

SATURDAY, JUNE 18, 1997. COURT OF APPEALS. Session. Adjourned from day to day.

Some Branches of Industry Advancing; Steel Decline Goes On Gradually.

CAR LOADINGS SHRINK BELOW MILLION MARK

Oil Still the "Slok Man:" Cotton Outlook Brightens; Cattle Prices Better.

New York, June 18 (By the Associated Fress). — Varying reports on conditions last week gave the American business chart a rather checkered appearance, with the principal curve toward further improvement in the general situation. At this season of the year, when practically all lines may be expected normally to show material recessions, some branches of industry displayed tendencies to advance, and in practically no instance was there any symptom of a marked slump.

The steel trade's seasonal decline continued very gradually, and current demand was running rather above expectations. There was some softening in a few products, but on the whole prices held up well. Output for the year so far was still somewhat ahead of that for the same period of 1996.

Car loadings for the week ended June 4 declined sharply from the week before and the related period of the preceding year. Much of this falling off, however, was attributed to the Memorial Day holiday, and, while the aggregate fell under the 1,000,000-car mark for the first time in several weeks, the drop was not considered particularly marked. The corresponding week of 1926 did not include a holiday.

Auto Sales Are Slower.

Auto Sales Are Slower.

Auto Sales Are Slower.

Sales of automobiles were reported slower, partly in reflection of the seasonal easing off in demand, and partly due to hesitancy created by the announcement of an impending new Ford model. Manufacturers, as a rule, were optimistic regarding the outlook for the later months of the summer, when an expansion of sales comparable with last year was freely predicted.

Oil was still the "sick man" of business. Seminole Field, to fiirt with new crude oil production records and the completion of at least one new well, showed an extension of the pool. Remarks of high authorities in the petroleum industry to the effect that overproduction is rapidly becoming a world problem gave added color to the seriousness of the situation.

Tire and rubber manufacturers were adversely affected by a sharp slump in seriousness of the situation.

Thre and rubber manufacturers were adversely affected by a sharp slump in crude rubber prices, which it was feared might lead to inventory troubles. The $40,000,000 American rubber pool formed last December by leading motor and tire interesta. was extended for eight months from August I, when it would have expired automatically, and this gave rise to hope that some of the difficulty might be overcome. Cotton Consumption Increasing

Cotton consumption appeared on the up grade with increasing momentum, and textiles as a whole were attended by an improved outlook. Retail sales quickened, but buying power, as in weeks before, was somewhat curtailed by conditions aroone residents. weeks before, was somewhat curtained by conditions among residents of flooded areas of the Mississippi Valley. Crops were again influenced by the weather. Corn planting in the Middle West is far less advanced than in any prices showed only nominal changes from those of last week-end. Cattle prices, however, improved, heavy beef cattle selling at the highest figure of the year.

Credit conditions were quite easy and money was pientiful. Bank clearings fell a little under the preceding week of last year. Check payments were larger in aggregate than either last week of the supplied only that purchase was indicated plainly that purchase was under the mean treasury 3% in exchange, would be made only at purchase two sellings and the contraction conditions, but no cullifat in aggregate than either last week of the American holders of German government bonds who have exchanged their bonds for loan liquidation debt and drawing certificates under the recent exchange offer are advised by Dr. A.

Grossman, commissioner for German government loans, that the certificates will be redeemed over a period of 30 years at five times their face amount plus 4½ per cent interest from January 1, 1936, to the end of the calenday year in which the certificate may enday year in which the certificate gray be drawn. Some of these holders, he said, are disposing of their certificates to unscrupulous persons. He explained that a drawing certificate of a face amount of reichsmark 100—will be drawn at reichsmark 500—plus interest and the present market for such drawing certificate is about $78.

the E Paso & Southwestern system, with which it has traffic connections. In addition, other lines are operated from St. Louis to Kansas City and to St. Paul and from Memphis. Tenn., wastward. The road's entire system bovers fourteen States of the middle Western part of the country and includes 8,000 miles of line in a territory which is highly competitive.

This railroad is known as one of high property value and loy earning power. The road's traffic is well balanced, however, and a general increase in business has been shown during the last ten years, with 1926 operations proving especially good. Net operating income that year showed an increase of about 20 per cent over the 1928 figure and earnings on the common stock amounted to $10.85 per share, as compared with 94.95 earned in the previous year. As a result of this excellent 1928 performance, the company paid an initial quartery dividend of $1.25 per share on its common stock in March of the present year. This places the common shares on a $5 annual dividend basis and marks the first time that any disbursement has been made on these shares since the company was reorganised in 1917.

List Closes the Week at Low Level: More New Offerings Pour In.

MONEY CONTINUES EASY

New York, June 19 (By the Autociated Press).—Readjustment of bond prices on a broad scale was in pronounced evidence during the past week, with changes in both direction sometimes reaching large proportion. Easy money rates prevailed, however, and on the whole the list closed only a little lower than the prayous week-nd.

New offerings continued to pour in and pile on dealers' shelves, although a me little relief was felt by a temporary increase in available money resulting from June 15 final tal operations of the Treasury Department. Checks paid on account of taxes required two to four days to reach their banks for clearance, and the cash they represented in the meantime was free for various uses, including transactions in bonds. The Government's June '5 turnover exceeded $1,000,000,000, terpretation could be applied, since it was indicated plainly that purchase would be made only at prices considered advantageous to the Treasury. Federal issues displayed no more than normal activity during 'b'c week.

Hope that the July reinvestment demand might go far in relieving the market of its oversupply of new issues was again expressed in bond circles. Private estimates, indicated that the amount of money to be paid investors in dividends and interest will set a new record above the half-million mark. Much of this may reasonably be expected to find its way into the market for new securities, some of which are said to be waiting now at prices more or less attractive to "bargain seekers."

New issues just over the horizon give added weight to the expectation that new offerings in 1927 will exceed all peace-time records. Although not yet authorized by the voters, something like $90,000,000 in bonds appears to be on the way in Chicago and vicinity. Presh loans to Italian municipalities, as well as a land reclamation issue for that kingdom, are reported well advanced in negotiations being carried as well as a land reclamation issue for that kingdom, are reported well advanced in negotiations being carried on by New York bankers, and the large Polish loan continued to bob up as one of the prospects for the near future. Regarding the Polish advance, however, bankers concerned have intimated that autumn may arrive before the deal is consummated. The city of Ceaks, Japan, also is negotiating for a large loan.

Japan, also is negotiating for a large loan.

In a market flooded with new material, a sluggish trend in listed bonds is to be expected, and in this respect last week set no new precedents. Convertible liens, however, had a rather hectic five days, alumping sharply durning the early half, for the most part in sympathy with the stocks of the companies concerned, and rallying almost as smartly during the latter period. International Telephone 5½s perhaps featured this group, its setting based upon the company's decision to call the bonds on September 1. liquidating them with a new $35,000,000 issue at a lower rate of interest.

BUSINESS DISPLAYS

Some Branches of Industry Advancing; Steel Decline Goes On Gradually.

CAR LOADINGS SHRINK BELOW MILLION MARK

Still the "Sick Man;" Cotton Outlook Brightens:

Cattle Prices Better.

New York, June 19 (By the Associated Press). — Varying reports on conditions last week gave the American business chart a rather checkered appearance, with the principal curve toward further improvement in the general situation. At this season of the year, when practically all lines may be expected normally to show material recessions, some branches of industry displayed tendencies to advance, and in practically no instance was there any symptom of a marked slump.

The steel trade's seasonal decline continued very gradually, and current demand was running rather above expectations. There was some softening in a few products, but on the whele prices held up well. Output for the year so far was still somewhat shead of that for the same period of 1926.

Car loadings for the week ended June 4 declined sharply from the week before and the related period of the preceding year. Much of this falling off, however, was strributed to the Memorial Day holiday, and, while the aggregate fell under the 1,000,000-car mark for the first time in several weeks, the drop was not considered particularly marked. The corresponding week of 1926 did not include a holiday.

Auto Sales Are Slower.

Auto Sales Are Slower.

Sales of automobiles were reported slower, partly in reflection of the seasonal easing off in demand, and partly due to hesitancy created by the announcement of an impending new Ford model. Manufacturers, as a rule, were optimistic regarding the outlook for the later months of the summer, when an expansion of sales comparable with last year was freely predicted.

Oil was still the "sick man" of business. Seminole Field, to flirt with new crude oil production records and the Oil was still the "sick man" of business. Seminole Field, to flirt with new crude oil production records and the completion of at least one new well, showed an extension of the pool. Remarks of high authorities in the petroleum industry to the effect that overproduction is rapidly becoming a world problem gave added color to the seriousness of the situation.

The and rubber manufacturers were adversely affected by a sharp slump in crude rubber prices, which it was feared might lead to inventory troubles. The $40,000,000 American rubber pool, formed last December by leading motor and tire interests, was extended for eight months from August 1, when it would have expired automatically, and this gave rise to hope that some of the difficulty might be overcome.

Cotton Consumption Increasing. Cotton Consumption Increasing.

Cotton consumption appeared on the up grade with increasing momentum, and textiles as a whole were attended by an improved outlook. Retail sales quickened, but buying power, as in weeks before, was somewhat curtailed by conditions among residents of flooded areas of the Mississippi Valley. Crops were again influenced by the weather. Corn planting in the Middle West is far less advanced than in any recent year. Winter wheat harvesting has begun in some sections. Export demand continued in good volume and prices showed only nominal changes from those of last week-end. Cattle prices, however, improved, heavy beef cattle selling at the highest figure of the year.

International Utilities Corporation has acquired the Rosetown Electric Light & Power Co., Ltd., of Rosetown. Saskatchewan. The deal is in furtherance of a plan to build a chain of electric light and power properties in the western provinces of Canada.

Pacific Railway.

The Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway's main line extends from Chicago to Denver and Colorado Springs. Another line runs from Chicago to Santa Rosa, New Mex. where it joins the El Paso & Southwestern system, with which it has traffic connections. In addition, other lines are operated from St. Louis to Kansas City and to St. Paul and from Memphis, Tenn., westward. The road's entire system covers fourteen States of the middle Western part of the country and includes 8,000 miles of line in a territory which is highly competitive.

This railroad is known as one of high property value and loy earning power. The road's traffic is well balanced, however, and a general increase in business has been shown during the last ten years, with 1936 operations proving especially good. Net operating income last year showed an increase of about 20 per cent over the 1935 figure and earnings on the common stock amounted to $10.85 per share, as compared with $4.56 earned in the previous year. As a result of this excellent 1926 performance, the company paid an initial quarterly dividend of $1.25 per share on its common stock in March of the present year. This places the common shares on a $6 annual dividend basis and marks the first time that any disbursement has been

Japan, also is negotiating for a large loan.

In a market flooded with new material, a sluggish trend in listed bonds is to be expected, and in this respect last week set no new precedents. Convertible liens, however, had a rather hectic five days, slumping sharply during the early half, for the most partin sympathy with the stocks of the companies concerned, and rallying almost as smartly during the latter period. International Telephone 5½s perhaps featured this group, its activity being based upon the company's decision to call the bonds on September 1. liquidating them with a new $35,000,000 issue at a lower rate of interest.

The total of new issues during the week approximated $105,000,000, which compares with $250,000,000 for the week preceding, and close to $150,000,000 in the corresponding week of last year.

Rubber Shipments Larger.

New York, June 19 (By A. P.).—
World shipments of rubber to the end of April, 1927, show an increase of 18,983 tons compared with the same period of 1938, the Bankers Trust Co., of New York, reports. Total shipments from producing countries were 211,563 tons. MOVEMENTS ON CURB ARE HIGHLY IRREGULAR Week's Main Trend Is Lower; Sharp Gains and Losses Are Recorded.

OILS RISE; MOTORS SAG New York, June 19 (By the Associated Press).—Price movements in the Curb Market last week were highly irregular, with the main trend toward lower ground. There were a number of sharp breaks in some shares, while others moved briskly upward. Group movements were well concerted on the whole, although mixed trends were shown by utility and pipe line shares.

Selective buying was in evidence in many linstances. American Road Machine doubled its value, touching 10½, and closed the week only a little below that figure. Frairie Pipe Line moved up steadily to a new record high, with a net gain of 18.

Olis sedvanced despite pessimistic views of the overproduction of crude. Motor shares sagged, but accessories were well supported. Tires were reactionary on the slump in crude rubber prices, although Goodyear was an exception.

Among securities given good support were those connected with the building trade, amusements and tobacoos.

Celanse Corporation was conspicuous among the soft spots, losing 124 points.
At one time the stock sold down as low as 284, an extreme drop of 23 34.

New issues admitted to trading totaling more than a dozen, included common stocks of Westinghouse Airbrake of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

Associated Gas and Electric System

Founded in 1852

Associated System Piney Dam and Power House, Clarion River, Pennsylvania

First Hydro-Electric Power in 1882 Six weeks after the opening of the first electric power plant in New York City in 1882, a small water-driven plant was put into operation in Appleton, Wisconsin. It furnished enough electricity to light 250 sixteen candlepower incandescent

In 1926 hydro-electric plants produced 35% of the total output of electricity in the United States. 16% more electricity was produced by water power in 1926 than in 1925. Within the Associated System there are 26 hydro-electric plants. Interconnection helps make possible efficient use of the steam generating stations which are dependent for economy on uniformity of load.

300 Members of 4-H Club Visit Arlington and Experimental Farm.

40 STATES REPRESENTED

Under an overcast sky which momen tarily threatened to loose its torrents 300 boys and girls from rural America paid solemn tribute to the Unknown Soldier at Arilington Cemetery yesterday afternoon. A wreath was placed on the tomb, and Hamford MacNider, Assistant Secretary of War, addressed the gathering, charging the boys and girls with the duties and responsibili-the gathering, charging the boys and girls with the duties and responsibilities of citizenship.

The children are members of the 4 H Club of the Department of Agriculture, attending their first national encampment. They are quattered in tents, arranged in military order on the Malljust north of the department, their sponsor. There are four representatives from each of 40 States.

Prior to the ceremony the children were shown the experimental farm of the department at Arlington, and they evinced much interest in the growing grafi exhibits there. Today's program includes a visit to the National Museum, where they will hear an address by J. J. Tigert, United States Commissioner of Education, and a banquet at the Mayflower Hotel, where each will be the guest of a member of the Department of Agriculture.

At the 9:45 o'clock assembly tomorrow morning, Representative J. B. Aswell, of Louisiana, will address the encampment on "Law Making in the Federal Congress." The afternoon and evening will be devoted to sightseeing.
